NAZI LEADERS IN LAST DAY OF LIFE

By LOWELL BENNETT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 15.—A haunting fear of The Almighty entered the Nuernberg death block today amid indications that the execution of the 11 haggard condemned Nazis will begin at one minute after midnight tonight.

This would be 6:01 Eastern Standard Time tonight (Tuesday).

The report that the first of the 11 will die in Wednesday's first minute originated with Russian sources in Nuernberg.

No Official Announcement
There was, however, no official announcement of the time set for the executions.

An army security officer revealed that former Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering in his last full day of life is talking mostly of religion, his faith and his power.

Goering told his physician, "I have no fear, and will at all times show dignity."

The former Number Two Nazi is apparently feeling the strain of his imminent death and spent a poor night despite sedatives administered to him for the first time in many weeks.

The security officer, Capt. Samuel Binder, said that with their deaths a little more than 12 hours away the condemned still did not know the day or hour of their execution.

He said that guards armed with tommy guns are patrolling the prison rampart under which is a moat filled in with barbed wire.

Community Chest Workers Get Away On Drive For $88,800

Approximately 175 campaign workers attending a dinner in The Castleton hotel Monday evening heard Dr. Robert F. Galbreath and drive chairman Howard B. Richards call for an ardent and quick-moving drive to put the 1946 Community Chest campaign "over the top" for another year.

The dinner, given at the expense of a Community Chest supporter, was a rally of the men and women who are starting out this morning to solicit $88,800 to aid the various local welfare and social service agencies so essential to the community's well-being.

West Pittsburg Water Turned On

Service Temporarily Restored Monday Afternoon In Town

Water service was temporarily restored at West Pittsburg Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the West Pittsburg Water company.

Temporary repairs were completed, enabling residents to have water. The supply had been off throughout the day. It was necessary to shut off the line again today, however, until repairs to the plant, damaged by fire Sunday afternoon, can be completed.

Officials of the company expect to have the necessary repairs completed some time during the day, so that the water can be turned on permanently.

Sessions were resumed at the West Pittsburg school today, and by tomorrow, the entire borough hopes to be back on a normal basis, it was stated.

Wholesalers Say Flow To Begin At Once; Some Local Stores Offer Meat Today

Wholesale meat dealers in the city this morning predicted the flow from the slaughtering centers will begin immediately and said that the city should be feeling the result of the price control lift early next week.

Allowing time for slaughter, dressing and chilling, shipments in bulk are expected perhaps by the end of the week and certainly by next Wednesday or Thursday, it was stated.

Local dealers opined that the lifting of controls clarifies the situation, since it is a definite step towards the end of the famine. Actual amounts of cattle on the ranges, and the demand of the public will govern the amount reaching the retail stores and subsequent prices, it was stated.

Following the President's decision to lift controls on meat, supplies were noted in some of the city's butcher and grocery shops today. Beef, veal and much processed meat were offered for sale.

Promise Roast Or Steak For Next Sunday Dinner

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Packing houses today promised meat-starved Pittsburgh a roast or a steak for Sunday dinner. The packers warned that prices will be high, but said they expected them to level off as soon as farm-ers establish a basis on which they can buy and feed cattle.

Meanwhile, three of the Steel City's large meat packers, closed from three to six weeks, opened for business.

Butchering Is To Be Resumed

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 15.—(INS)—The southeastern Pennsylvania Slaughterers' association today ended a four-week butchering holiday following the decontrol of meat prices.

Charles S. Winters, of nearby Terre Hills, a spokesman for the organization, predicted meat would not be available in "any quantity" for several days.

New Sabotage In Power Strike Being Probed

Strikers Are Voting At N. L. R. B. Election On Collective Bargaining Agent

STREET CARS AND BUSES RESUME

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Allegheny county sheriffs and detectives were dispatched to the huge Colfax power station today to open an immediate investigation into the possible "sabotaging" of a costly transformer which allegedly was put out of commission by a high-powered rifle shot.

A Duquesne Light company spokesman reported that a bullet hole was found in the cooling system of the transformer early this morning, but that no trace of the spent bullet had been found.

He added that none of the employees at the station heard the shot fired but that the bullet hole, through which oil was leaking, was found shortly after residents in many sections of the city reported no power was available in their homes.

Third Sabotage Attempt

This was the third alleged attempt reported since the costly 22-day power tieup's inception and came as 1700 production and maintenance members of the light company's independent union prepared to cast ballots in the National Labor Relations Board election to determine their collective bargaining agent.

The members will vote to decide whether the AFL Electrical Workers (Continued on Page Two)

Local Boards In County Officially Notified To Cease Inductions

Officials of the four draft boards in Lawrence county today received official notification cancelling the unfilled portion of the October call, effective at midnight tonight.

This means that no more Lawrence county boys will be inducted to service until further notice. National Selective Service officials have stated that army requirements having been met by voluntary enlistments to cover a period of several months. No call will be received for November or December, the message stated.

The number scheduled for induction this month was small, draft board officials here stated. City Board One had only two men called for physical examination and one for induction; City Board Two had three called for induction and County Board Two had seven called for induction.

No registrants will be forwarded to the examining stations on or after October 16, the order received here stated.

Yugoslavs Not At Final Session Of Peace Parley

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The Yugoslavian delegation, which reportedly warned that its government would sign no treaty which it considers unfavorable, boycotted the final session of the Paris peace conference today.

As the 21-nations delegates met in plenary session for the last time to exchange diplomatic compliments, the chairman—Que. Tai Chi announced to the puzzled assembly that he had received a communication from the Yugoslavs.

The Yugoslavs notified the chair that they were unable to attend the closing session.

Army Abandons Negotiations For Foreign Beef

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The army today abandoned negotiations with Great Britain and Argentina to obtain meat for the armed forces.

A war department announcement said that the army would not continue its previous plan to seek 20 million pounds of beef from Britain for early November delivery to U. S. soldiers overseas.

Likewise, the army said, negotiations have been halted for supplies of Argentina beef which had not been allocated.

The war department said, however, that the lifting of price controls by President Truman did not solve the immediate meat problem of the quartermaster corps.

An increase in meat prices, anticipated by the army, will be met through a surplus of funds resulting from subnormal purchases of meat in past months, the announcement said.

Army Depot Building Material Hoards Now Under Congress Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Congressional investigators today announced the discovery of millions of dollars worth of critically needed building materials in army depots.

Hugh Wise, counsel for the house surplus property committee, said an investigator found one large hoard of scarce building materials at Seneca, Ill., near Peoria.

Wise said the five-member house group would attempt to obtain an explanation for the delay in releasing the materials to the building industry. The Seneca, Ill., case, he stated, was representative of "conditions in several other depots throughout the country, about which we have received complaints."

Declared Surplus

Wise asserted that a large percentage of the supplies in the Seneca depot was declared surplus almost a year ago, but efforts to channel them into private industry (Continued on Page Two)

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The 21-nation Paris peace conference adjourned late this afternoon as Yugoslavia boycotted the final session in protest against "ruthless" voting methods and in an effort to force alterations in the Italian treaty draft.

The conference was declared closed at 5:24 p. m. (11:24 A. M. EST).

Thus the epic parley which convened 11 weeks ago to recommend terms of peace for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland passed officially into history.

Man On Trial For Murder Takes Life By Hanging

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Oct. 15.—(INS)—Vernon Newton, 24, on trial for the murder of his two infant daughters and attempted murder of his wife, hanged himself today in the shower room of the San Mateo county jail.

An announcement by the sheriff's office said the accused man hanged himself with an electric light cord, probably between 4 a. m. and 7 a. m.

The state claimed Newton killed his daughters and tried to murder his young wife in Wagoner Canyon, near Half Moon Bay last June 24 because of infatuation with another woman.

It was charged that Newton beat to death his daughters, Caroline Lee, seven months, and Barbara Ann, 2 years, and battered his wife with a milk bottle or shovel.

No Telegram Shower At White House For Truman's Meat Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The White House reported today that it has received very few telegrams in response to President Truman's radio speech last night in which he announced the removal of price controls on meat.

Only about 100 telegrams had been received at the White House this morning, Assistant Press Secretary Eben Ayers said. He added that the telegrams "do not show much of anything" in the way of approval or disapproval of the President's action.

Ayers declined to answer a reporter's question regarding what else President Truman could do if the removal of price controls fail to bring adequate supplies of meat on the market.

Restaurant Meat Dishes Now Put On Cost Plus Basis

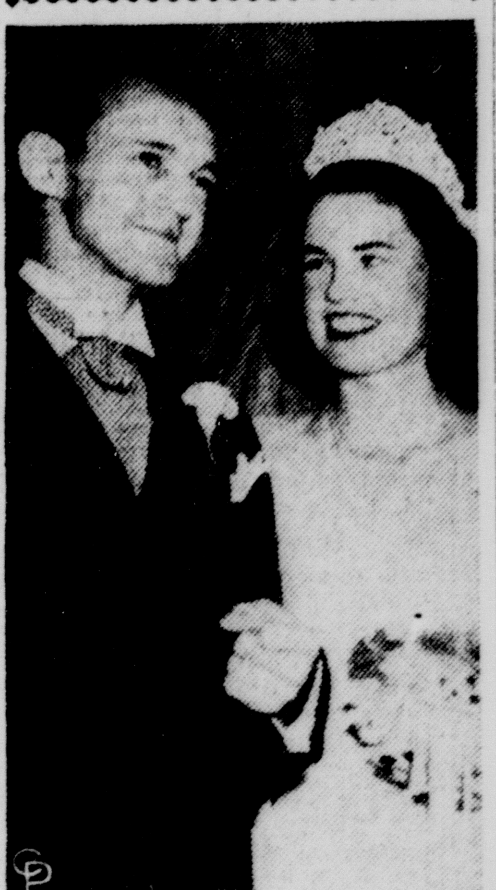

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The OPA announced today that removal of livestock price controls automatically puts restaurant meat dishes on a cost-plus-margin basis.

An agency spokesman said that restaurant prices are now entirely dependent on food costs. The margin to be added to costs is that of the 1943 fiscal year or the nearest six months to that for which figures are available.

There was a period of cost-plus-margin prices on meat dishes during the suspension of OPA in July and August. On Sept. 16 meat dish prices were back to levels of April 4 to 10, 1943. On Oct. 10 restaurant men were granted a 15 per cent increase over the roll back.

Prompt Supply Of Meat Promise By Government

President's Decision To Remove Meat Price Control Expected To Bring Meat Shortly

MEAT INDUSTRY NOT SO OPTIMISTIC (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The government today formally removed price controls from the livestock industry and high officials promised the American people a prompt supply of steaks, roasts and chops.

The formal action, carrying out instructions of Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, was taken by OPA Chief Paul Porter, at noon and was retroactive to 12:01 EST today.

The government acted three weeks before election day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The government promised the American people today a prompt supply of meat in the wake of President Truman's decision to remove price controls from the livestock industry.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson led a group of government officials in forecasting an early return of steaks and chops to retail markets. Anderson said that with industry's cooperation meat would be in ample supply "very quickly."

Other officials predicted a substantial increase in meat within the next seven to fourteen days.

Industry Not So Optimistic

Spokesmen for the meat industry failed to share the optimism of administration officials. Their estimates of the time required for a jump in the nation's supply of meat ranged from 30 to 90 days.

In announcing his decision to de-control meat, President Truman also revealed that the quarantine on importation of Mexican cattle will be lifted to boost the United States meat supply. Anderson estimated that there are 200,000 head of beef available in Mexico.

Record-Seeking B-29 Turns Back To Paris Airport

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The Paucan Dreamboat ran into mechanical trouble two hours and forty-seven minutes after taking off on a record run to New York today and returned to the Orly airfield.

It took off at 10:25 a. m. Paris time, and landed again at approximately 1:12 p. m.

American army officers at Orly announced that Col. C. S. Irvine, skipper of the huge B-29, ordered the plane turned about after the mechanical difficulties occurred.

The Dreamboat crew had planned to fly from Paris to LaGuardia field, New York, in an attempt to crack the present record of 14 hours and 39 minutes. A TWA Constellation claims that time.

The plane made its history-making flight over the top of the world from Hawaii to Cairo 10 days ago without incident.

Management And Labor Gratified At Meat Action

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Representatives of both management and labor in Philadelphia's meat industry today welcomed President Truman's lifting of price controls on meat.

A spokesman for the AFL-Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen described the President's announcement as "good news." Several hundred members of the union have been idle during the past few weeks because of the meat shortage.

Arthur E. Dennis, vice president of the National Meat Industry Council, said the President's decision was a "surprise" and a "necessary result of the evil that grew out of not operating price controls properly."

Dennis said the council and other meat groups he represents will "make all attempts to keep prices within reasonable levels and not to let them go crazy."

He predicted, however, that "prices will go up rather sharply at first, and it possibly will take a good two months before they level off."

GERMAN PEACE TREATY SIG PROBLEM FACED

Trieste, in the Italian treaty, and the free navigation of the Danube settled in Paris.

Must Still Be Decided

Either of these issues must still be decided by the "Big Four." Since Russia and her satellites approved neither of the Paris compromises, the issue may remain as widely split as ever in New York.

Byrnes, however, was believed to be engaged on a frontal diplomatic attack on the Soviet Union. He is due back about Friday and, after reporting to President Truman, immediately will go on the radio to place his case before the American public.

Under an agreement reached in Paris by Byrnes with Russian Foreign Minister V. Molotov, British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, they will meet in New York Nov. 4.

After finishing the treaty drafts for the Axis satellites, the "Big Four," under the agreement, will begin consideration of the German treaty.

It is regarded as representing a general shift in his policy for bringing about world peace. Previously Byrnes had indicated that a peace treaty for Japan might most readily follow those for the European satellites.

COMMUNITY CHEST WORKERS GET AWAY ON DRIVE FOR $88,800

Mission to care for many to whom no one else would extend a hand," he continued.

Dr. Galbreath pointed out that, far from being exorbitant, most of the amounts designated for various agencies are extremely modest. A community spirit is especially necessary for the youth of the town and the county, he added.

"Money invested in things like the Y. M. and the Scouts is never wasted," the speaker declared. "Things we willingly give are the things we save."

Richards Tells Plans

Expressing his pleasure in finding that so many of his old associates in Community Chest work are still active in the drives, Chairman Howard B. Richards, who has been in Florida for a number of years, told both the old and the new workers that the elements of a successful drive were "do it now" and "be sold on the job yourself."

The first report meeting will be at noon Thursday, and all division chairman will be expected to have reports to make. Mr. Richards explained that the workers do not get out this week, when the publicity is fresh in the minds of the public, the story will be stale by the end of the drive.

"As for being sold on the drive yourself," the chairman asserted, "make out your own pledge card before you ever leave the house to solicit anyone else."

Dingley Presides

Both speakers, as well as a number of other guests, were introduced by Paul Dingley, president of the Community Chest Board, who presided at the dinner. Group singing during the evening was led by David Rees, and accompanied by Emel Branstetter.

Those at the speakers table included Clarence Engard, committee on arrangements for the dinner; Dr. G. S. Brannett, secretary of the board; Charles H. Johnson, Jr., treasurer; Richard E. Rantz, vice president; and Sidney Luckey, vice chairman of the drive.

Other guests introduced were Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, former chairman of the drive and president of the board, and now chairman of special assignments; Mrs. Frank L. Burton, chairman of the home division; and William Langan, campaign chairman last year.

Results of the drive, from today on, will be chalked up on a score board in the hotel, and will also be indicated on a "thermometer" on the public square.

products of livestock will be exempted from control. His aides said that meat products containing one-third meat would be decontrolled along with fresh and canned meat. Food manufactured from livestock will be freed from ceilings.

OPA officials said that the decontrol order lifts all government controls over slaughtering as well as meat prices. They explained that federal controls on hides would be retained, however.

In his nation-wide broadcast on the administration's stabilization program, the President said that decontrol of other commodities will be accelerated and that wage controls will be tapered off as production increases.

Rent Controls To Stay

The President added, however, that rent controls and ceilings on some other items will continue "for a long time to come."

Republican leaders hailed Mr. Truman's decision to lift meat controls as "the right thing to do." They foresaw political motives behind his action.

GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Ohio Governor John W. Bricker, and Republican campaign Director Clarence J. Brown all declared that the step should have been taken several months ago.

A Republican national committee spokesman will make a 15-minute address tonight on the Columbia Broadcasting System in reply to the President's speech on meat.

The spokesman has not yet been selected.

Democratic leaders felt in line with the President's assertion that the administration price control program has been hamstringing "a reckless group of selfish men."

President Attacks Congress

In his address, the President bitterly attacked Congress for passing control law, and declared that the what he termed a "feeble" price removal of controls was "the only remedy left" to ease the meat shortage.

Mr. Truman asserted: "The responsibility rests squarely on a few men in the Congress who in the service of selfish interests, have determined for some time to wreck price controls no matter what the cost might be to our people."

"The real blame, however, lies at the door of the reckless group of selfish men, who in the hope of gaining political advantage, have encouraged sellers to gamble on destruction of price control."

Mr. Truman said that many candidates for Congress had pledged themselves to vote for repeal of OPA and that, as a result, there had been a tendency toward lawlessness through wide-spread disregard of the price control law.

Risk Now Smaller

He observed that the risk to the nation's economy in the removal of meat controls was less than it would be if production generally were not rapidly expanding.

The Chief Executive said that all of the alternatives to removal of price controls on livestock would have been ineffectual in boosting consumers' meat supplies.

Among the proposals rejected by the President as a solution to the meat famine were: A price control holiday, increases in meat and livestock prices, government seizure of packing houses or cattle on the ranges, and importation of Argentine canned beef.

Mr. Truman said that the meat shortage resulted from the heavy flow of livestock to market during the 25-day period in July when price controls lapsed. He declared:

"During this period, selfish men rushed unfattened cattle to the slaughter houses in order to get in under the wire and make high profits. That inevitably caused a shortage later."

The committee called several witnesses to testify today concerning it. They included Stanley Adams, regional director of the Chicago office of the War Assets Administration, and representatives of the Federal House Administration in Chicago.

Wise said the supplies at the Seneca depot included such hard-to-get building materials as lumber, nails, fittings, pipes, varnish and paint.

The committee disclosed that an investigation was launched after a complaint was received that considerable surplus property was stored at the depot and was not being sold.

The committee, headed by Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo.) will close its hearings in Washington tomorrow, according to Wise, until after the Nov. 5 elections, when they will be resumed. They have been underway for several months.

A subcommittee will hold hearings next week in New York on the failure of veterans to receive priorities in the purchase of surplus goods.

The time that the executions will begin is not officially known, but it is believed that the first of the condemned will go to the gallows at sunrise tomorrow which is 6:36 a. m. (12:36 A. M. EST).

An unconfirmed report attributed to Russian sources said the executions will begin one minute after midnight tonight (6 p. m. EST Tuesday).

Correspondents To See Executions

Sometime today the eight foreign correspondents who will report the executions to the world by printed and spoken word will enter the heavily guarded Nuernberg Palace of Justice prison under escort.

Not until all the executions are completed will they emerge. This may be as late as near noon (6 a. m. EST) if the hangings begin at sunrise.

Only a single official photograph will be allowed at the scene. His films will be for record purposes and will not be published.

Gen. Rickard pointed out that the control commission's work will not end with the hangings. He said, "we still have to bury these eleven."

Their burial site, however, remains secret. Allied authorities have said they will be interred in unmarked graves to prevent any neo-Nazi movement from consecrating them as shrines.

try "bogged down" for some reason. The committee called several witnesses to testify today concerning it. They included Stanley Adams, regional director of the Chicago office of the War Assets Administration, and representatives of the Federal House Administration in Chicago.

Wise said the supplies at the Seneca depot included such hard-to-get building materials as lumber, nails, fittings, pipes, varnish and paint.

The committee disclosed that an investigation was launched after a complaint was received that considerable surplus property was stored at the depot and was not being sold.

The committee, headed by Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo.) will close its hearings in Washington tomorrow, according to Wise, until after the Nov. 5 elections, when they will be resumed. They have been underway for several months.

A subcommittee will hold hearings next week in New York on the failure of veterans to receive priorities in the purchase of surplus goods.

ers, the CIO Utility Workers, the AFL-United Mine Workers District No. 50 or the present independent union will act as their bargaining representative in future contract disputes.

Union members will ballot in 11 polling places throughout the day.

George Mueller, president of the independent company union, was confident his organization would come out on top. He said a spot check of strikers showed they were behind the independent union.

Concede Victory

AFL and CIO labor leaders conceded victory for the independent union because the number of labor organizations on the ballot make the Duquesne Light organization odds-on favorite to sweep the election.

The election came as a result of a petition filed by the United Mine Workers District 50 and was rushed through National Labor Relations Board channels. Other unions bidding for control of the power workers are the CIO-Utility Workers and the AFL Electricians Union.

SETTLE-Wellman

NUPTIALS SATURDAY

On Saturday morning Miss Lorraine Settle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Settle, 1422 Croton avenue, became the bride of Samuel Wellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Wellman, of the Harlansburg road. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by Rev. O. J. Warnath, who used the single ring ceremony. The fireplace was decorated with beautiful fall flowers which served as an altar.

The bride was lovely in a white gown made with a sweetheart neckline with a fitted bodice and a full net skirt. Her veil of tulle fell from a tiara of rhinestones and she carried roses and baby mums.

Miss Katherine Wellman, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, wore a blue gown identical to that of the brides and carried roses and baby mums.

Michael Grosseti served as best man.

Following a congratulatory period a wedding dinner was served with places set for 50 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellman departed on an extended wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Wellman was employed at the Elks club. Mr. Wellman is employed at the United Engineering Co.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Eva Feigert and children, of Sharpville, Mrs. Myrtle Feigert and children, of Sharon, Mrs. Huldah Schuller and daughter, of Kinsman, O.

Vacation Here

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Brown of Franklin have arrived for a vacation visit here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Underwood of the Youngstown road and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of East Washington street.

MILLER-ROBINSON

PRETTY CEREMONY

At a pretty early October wedding, Miss Ruth Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Miller, 510 Edgewood avenue, became the bride of Charles Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson, 433 Edgewood avenue, on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock in the First United Presbyterian church, Glenmore boulevard.

Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony, before an altar banked with ferns and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was very attractive in a gown of white nylon, entrain, with sweetheart neckline and finger tip veil. Cala lilies made up her arm bouquet as her only jewelry, she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Eleanor Warnock, as maid of honor, was very charming in a pink net gown, with headband of baby mums and an arm bouquet of white mums. Miss Frances and Eleanor Robinson, sisters of the groom, as bridesmaids, wore blue net gowns, with headbands of pink roses and carried arm bouquets of pink roses.

The groom's father, Charles A. Robinson, served as best man, while Willard Volsey and Clifford Miller acted as ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony, the bridal party retired to the social rooms of the church where a reception, attended by 150 guests, was held. A large wedding cake, centered the table.

The couple left late in the evening on a wedding trip, which will take them into Michigan and other western states and upon their return will reside in their apartment on Bell avenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are graduates of the New Castle High school. The bride was formerly employed at the Johnson-Bronze, while the groom is engaged in the welding business.

SCAVENGER HUNT FOR MERCER CLASS

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Kennaday graciously received members of the Mercer class of Highland U. P. church in their home on the Harlansburg road Monday night.

Entertainment for the evening, which was planned by the hostess, was in the form of a scavenger hunt. The guests, divided into six groups, were sent in the search of various articles. A live goat, a hair from a goat's tail, an earthenware, a live chicken and an epitaph from a tombstone were among the articles secured in the pursuit.

Much merriment was caused when some of the members related stories of their adventures at the close of the hunt. Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKee, Mrs. Judd McCoy, Mrs. Arthur Sampson and Mrs. Samuel Staats, who composed the winning group, were awarded prizes.

Earlier in the evening Mrs. Kennaday was in charge of the devotional period, while prayer was offered by J. Roy Mercer.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Staats, president, Miss Eleanor Ridley was appointed assistant secretary to take the place of Mrs. Hugh Chapin who has moved to St. Petersburg, Pa.

Halloween refreshments were served buffet style in the dining room with Mrs. J. Roy Mercer pouring.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Livesey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schiek, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bradford and Mrs. Judd McCoy were in charge of the evening's arrangements.

The group will gather Monday evening, November 11, at the church.

Trend Of Savings

No one has ever worried about having too much money saved. Whether on deposit in banks or invested in government bonds or life insurance. But the accumulated savings of the American people during the last few years have given rise to a theory that such savings are "over-savings," contributing to economic instability. Donald B. Woodward, an executive of a large life insurance company, recently labeled that theory a misconception.

Speaking before the American Life Convention in Chicago, Mr. Woodward said:

"The proportion of income saved by the American people has not changed over decades except during the war when shortage of goods compelled much involuntary saving. And already, though goods are still short, the rate of saving is rapidly declining from the extraordinary war levels, and there is reason to believe that it shortly will return at least to the level which prevailed for decades."

Such a trend may occasion relief among diagnosticians of the condition of the national economy insofar as much surplus purchasing power—calling for some remedial "siphoning off"—reflected swollen national credit, with too much money in circulation and a growing danger of inflation. This consideration has been further accentuated by low interest rates on government and private securities as well as bank deposits. But that inflationary aspect appears to be on the wane with the release of consumer goods at consistently high prices and the momentum of postwar buying.

Indeed, there are signs that, instead of saving, many persons are spending beyond their means, particularly in view of the uncertainty of the future and indicated conservation of individual financial reserves. Talk of a depression may be premature but an industrial recession, necessitating individual retrenchment in many cases, may come as production catches up with demand for consumer goods, with a consequent decline of employment.

In that event, accumulated savings will be a lifesaver for many wage-earners. Obviously, money then will buy more than at present. A change in the economic weather may again prove the proverbial wisdom of putting something aside for a rainy day.

Fragrance Versus Taste

Housewives who have become desperate in their search for meat will be heartened by a bulletin from one of the agencies of the Department of Agriculture. Boiled down, this bulletin offers a technique for dealing with meat-hungry husbands and other members of the family circle. All the housewife needs do is appeal to the nose instead of the mouth.

Once the sense of smell has been satisfied, the sense of taste seems to go completely haywire and welcomes any food that may be available when dinner is served.

This bulletin belittles the idea that people need meat and points to a large group of vegetarians where flesh is never tasted from one year to another. But federal experts recognize that some men have become accustomed to steak, pork and lamb and become somewhat critical when they sit down to a meal in which vegetables predominate. Here the experts offer the theory that what whets the appetite for meat is its detectable odor and not its taste.

All the housewife need do is fry "a curl of bacon." That will permeate the premises with bacon fragrance, whereupon the hungry husband will eat mush, egg plant, cauliflower and potatoes, his mind at ease and his taste buds fooled by the operation of his olfactory nerves.

This is a neat trick, if the housewife can perform it. The timely advice solves a problem that has become more and more perplexing in the average home. But there is one flaw in the advice, one step that the experts forgot to explain. Where is anybody to find a curl of bacon?

Care At Twilight

With many months of good driving weather back of them and with the going still good, many motorists may be given to reflection on the comparative difficulties that will be presented again when winter comes. Few may realize fully that fall already holds increased hazards for safe driving. In view of autumn's waning daylight hours, the Greater New York Safety Council has issued a warning to motorists and pedestrians to take extra precautions in the twilight to avoid accidents.

The council presents this timely admonition: "The pedestrian, hurrying from office or shop for the home-bound train (many people who work in New York City live twenty or fifty miles out, and who wouldn't?) should realize that it's darker than it was a week ago and much darker than it was before daylight saving time ended. The motorist has a big responsibility to keep his headlights properly adjusted, his windshield clean and his faculties keen."

While this consideration is indicated for pedestrians in their own interest, it is more imperative for motorists, most of whom by now must have observed how the slanting autumn lights makes driving vision more difficult. Even while the light is still "good" toward the end of a day, persons and objects ahead do not stand out with sufficient clarity; and so the outlook becomes "tricky" and the pattern of accident risk more treacherous. Needless to say, an unclean windshield is a particular driving handicap in the circumstances.

Intelligent motorists adjust themselves to winter driving with special precautions in most respects, but fall, too, requires such a seasonal adjustment with special care at twilight.

If bulls have fled the stock market, as headlines indicate, why haven't they shown up in butcher shops?

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

That candidate for governor who announces he has kissed 50,000 women voters during his campaign apparently believes in giving his would-be constituents a new kind of lip service.

The old-fashioned vote seeker often would up a campaign with a pair of frayed trousers but a modern candidate who now must run the risk of gaining a permanent pucker.

The kissing candidate, Zadok Dumkopf fears, may find that political office isn't always what it is smacked up to be.

With women controlling half of the vote, and the kiss becoming a potent campaign weapon, wise political party leaders might well look over the field of Hollywood glamour boys and radio crooners for potential presidential timber.

For president: Cary Grant or Bing Crosby. Either one should be able to sex up the lady-of-the-house vote.

For vice president: Dick Haymes or Van Johnson. That would take care of the first voters in the feminine contingent.

Of course, the opposition party might bob up with a ticket headed by Gary Cooper and Frankie Sinatra, with a sure-fire campaign slogan: "Kiss and tell—your friends to vote right."

National Political Scene Reflected In Ohio

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Here in Ohio are all the elements of the national political scene in this confused and uncertain year of 1946. In Cleveland, what happened inside the labor movement is typical of what has occurred in many industrial centers.

The bitter split inside the CIO-PAC has a direct bearing, of course, on the outcome of the November elections. It began, or rather it came into the open, nearly two years ago. Communists, or fellow travelers on the Moscow line, had gained control of the Cleveland CIO council.

They worked, as they invariably do, with intense zeal. They invariably turned up for all meetings, armed with a disciplined knowledge of parliamentary maneuver, and they stayed until the last vote was taken.

On a showdown, with the communists in the majority, the council voted to endorse Arnold Johnston, state head of the Communist party, who was running as an independent for the school board. This caused a great outcry. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers pulled out of the council, and the United Steel Workers threatened to follow. The endorsement was renounced.

Issue Publicly Joined

But the issue was publicly joined for all the world to see. In the years that followed, the quarrel between communist and non-communist has been fully reported in the papers. Last June, another showdown occurred over control of the local CIO paper. Again the communist faction won. This time the revolt of the non-communists threatened to withdraw their locals from the council—which would have meant a loss of nearly half the membership and, more important, half the revenues.

After this dispute had been thoroughly aired, both factions agreed to put the issue up to Philip Murray, the harassed national president of the CIO. Murray sent one of his trusted lieutenants to investigate. As a result, the CIO head brought in an outsider who is today absolute boss of the Cleveland council. The man chosen for this job is George Denno of Columbus, CIO regional director for central Ohio.

Denno, a solid trade-unionist who has never become involved in the maze of leftist politics, will clean out the whole organization after the election campaign. Then the council will elect new officers and begin over again. For the time being, the quarrel is in suspension.

Damage Already Done

But, politically speaking, the damage has already been done. The public quarrel has supplied the Republicans with effective documentation for their cry of communism. In the past that cry has sounded pretty hollow. Now, however, faithfully reported from day to day, is the story of an intrigue, dominated by communists and fellow travelers, to dictate the policy of one of the chief labor organizations in the state. The Republicans are using this handy campaign ammunition to the utmost.

It makes the position of middle-of-the-road Democratic candidates, such as Governor Frank Lausche and Senator James W. Huffman, very difficult. If they express approval of the reasonable measures of social reform advocated both by the Democratic party and the CIO-PAC then they are daubed with the red brush.

That may, in fact, be the broader and deeper meaning of the communist objective in America—to show that there is no responsible compromise and that we must be all red or all black. If that is true, then the communists are succeeding admirably in Ohio, where "Honorable" John Bricker, Republican candidate for the U. S. senate, is beating the drums for an anti-communist crusade.

How Much Influence?

In view of the publicity and much real influence will the PAC bring to bear on November 5? In Ohio you get various answers to that question. Registration of voters in Cuyahoga county, which includes Cleveland, is at an all-time high of 649,127. Even when duplications have been eliminated, it may exceed the 1940 record. Records on voter registration are reported for other industrial centers.

One is told two things about these registration figures. First, they're put down to a spontaneous outpouring of Americans who have "had enough." Second, one is told that the PAC has been the major factor in getting the voters to register. During the registration period, 50,000 voters, were on strike and PAC cars took them from the picket line to the registration booth.

Whether the vote in the industrial centers will be a Democratic vote is another matter. When Lausche won in 1944, he carried only 17 of Ohio's 88 counties, but those 17 included the great mass of the urban population.

For all the luster of confidence of the GOP, there could be a surprise in those imposing registration figures. Not until the votes are counted will the contents of that package be definitely known.

One Man's Opinion

The president's Monday night broadcast was set for 10 p. m. in the hope that most of the nation would have finished its vegetable soup by then and be ready for a little meat.

Immediate improvement in the situation should not be expected immediately. . . . Few presidents have brought home the bacon in one speech.

There seems to be some confusion on the public attitude toward the shortage. . . . Perhaps we should explain that we would rather have the meat first and the explanations later.

In my town the fire department takes care of the fire before it starts probing for the cause.

Since the Democrats started pinning the shortage on Sen. Taft the stenographer in the next office says "has he got all the soap and sugar, too?"

I've seen Taft. . . . If he's responsible for the meat shortage he must be working for the vegetarians. He's got none concealed on him.

The question of the day is "what can you find to broil on a fireside chat?"

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Every once in a while human beings do something spontaneously that carefully thought out deliberations could never accomplish.

There was a good example of that in Westport, Conn., the other day. Westport is a town of about eight or ten thousand people, inhabited by businessmen, storekeepers, artists, writers and the usual people of all types and kinds.

There are also, in Westport, 21 veterans' families who need housing very badly.

A housing project had been started, but there was the usual shortage of materials and labor, and the Federal Housing Authority was about to withdraw badly needed supplies, such as refrigerators and stoves, from the project—when spontaneously came to the rescue.

A meeting was called and, right there on the spot, it was suggested that the citizens of Westport themselves should finish the project.

The editor of the Westporter Herald wrote a two-page advertisement which was published in the paper, asking all citizens to come to the place where the housing project was in progress—or rather at a standstill—to bring their own hammers and particularly eight-penny nails and go to work over Saturday and Sunday.

And, lo and behold, the Brotherhood of Carpenters quickly issued permission to anybody who wanted to work to do so regardless of union affiliation.

On Saturday almost a hundred volunteers went to work.

Attention. . . not in a nasty manner like one used to hear in front of ye old barracks. . . but attention to the notice that concerns a very large number of local citizens. . . Wednesday evening of this week. . . that will be the 16th. . . The first meeting of the membership of the New Castle Booster Club will be held. . . Council Chambers, City Hall. All members are invited. . . topic will be making plans for the future of New Castle. Boost is the theme and we really have a lot to boost here in town. Some good ideas will be born on the 16th so make it a date. . . In case you haven't already joined the booster organization. . . you may do so anytime. Two dollars is the fee for one full year.

People must be reading this column. . . to some extent. . . several have called in and quite a few more have stopped me on the street and asked about joining the Booster Club. . . the last two were George Gettings and Dr. James Blackwood.

In addition to the Booster Club we are very much interested in the local chapter of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation. This organization is for the sole purpose of making this nation a better place in which to live by bringing pressure to bear where it most counts so that unnecessary rules and regulations. . . including of course restrictions. . . can be abolished or revised so that Americans can progress. . . We have something here in America that all other nations would like to destroy.

We citizens of this nation enjoy more good things in life than any other peoples in the world. . . Others who can't enjoy so much would like to make us like them. We have freedom of religion. . . in the red government there is no religion. The state is all powerful. . . Man is not the most powerful force that we have. . . Who made man?

If you have had enough. . . then it's up to you to do something about it. . . one way is to join an all-American organization that will make right the wrongs that have been done and that are being done in this country. Voice your opinion. . . and the Property and Owners Foundation can do this. If all property owners join hands. . . there are 30,000,000 in the USA.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

FAST TEMPO HARD ON GROWING CHILDREN

We are a nation of jittery people—jittery adults, jittery children. Some of us are more jittery than the rest of us. Nor can we blame it all on the war. Of course, the war, with all its resulting trials and tragedies, has been hard on people's nerves. But long before the war there were ominous signs of increasing nervous instability. One evidence of it was in the growing incidence of mental illness.

Teachers, too, have become more conscious of the problem in the wriggling, restless, noisy nature of their children. Obviously, noddling, habit spasms and stuttering are on the increase.

Not Enough Leisure

Year by year we are increasing our speed of going places and our ways of seeking excitement, and it is doubtful whether we are toughening at the same rate. Family life, in addition to its disintegration, is growing more and more complex, each member always going some place and hurrying to be on time. Thanks to the radio, which is turned on indiscriminately, in the home of growing children, quiet and repose at home are rarely experienced.

Not even is mealtime a period for leisurely family conversation. Moreover, the rush-rush has crowded out family prayers and even grace at meals. Undoubtedly, these practices of our religious forebears had good mental hygiene effect. They certainly must have helped reduce the jitters.

The one outstanding place for serenity is in a worship service in a church, though a decreasing number of persons are seeking this place. As time goes on we are going to grow more and more aware of religion as a shock absorber against the mounting forces of nerve-strain.

Since practically all children attend school and spend considerable time there, we shall look to the school as a shelter against the emotional storms elsewhere, even of the home. Indeed, it may be that the school will have to try to protect the child against the jitters of the home.

Yet, with crowded classes and an appalling shortage of well-trained teachers, we hardly can hope for much serenity in the average classroom for years to come. Besides, the school is getting more and more children who never have learned the alphabet of discipline at home, rendering it harder and harder for the teacher to develop good discipline at school.

Noisy Surroundings

For a minority of youngsters, so jittery they hardly can sit still a minute at a stretch, and privilege to move about and make things with the hands, dramatize and create in all sorts of ways, has had favorable effect, no doubt. At the same time, this newer freedom has made many other children still more pumpy. Certainly the blab-blab of many an elementary school is not very calming to the excitable child.

Some day the creative emphasis and freedom, tempered with self-control and consideration for the rights of others, may cause the school to become more nearly ideal for reducing the jitters and for promoting poise in children. My bulletins, "The Nervous Child" and "The Nervous Mother," may be had in a stamped self-addressed envelope by writing me at 238 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

PRESSURE BLOCS

The newspapers tell us about pressure blocs which are used in the legislature. These pressures are used to prevent legislation which the blocs do not want.

Pressure is a valuable way to prevent bleeding. In small cuts, a clean handkerchief or small pad of cloth may be pressed on the bleeding point and held firmly.

If nothing else is handy, the fingers may be used to stop the blood. Firm pressure should be used till the bleeding stops, then the pressure should be kept on so that the bleeding will not start again. After the bleeding is controlled a bandage may be applied.

Marshall China Mission On Verge Of Failure?
Communist Leaders Turn Down American Mediation
See Some Wage Equalization Achieved

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Gen. George C. Marshall's mission to China to attempt to weld the opposing factions into a peaceful government appears to be on the verge of failure, with a full-blown civil war the bitter fruits of the United States efforts at mediation.

Marshall, according to well-informed sources returning from the Orient, is "gloomy" as to the chances of success of his mission. Meantime, armed factions of the Nationalist government and the Chinese Communist party are resorting daily to ever-increasing armed encounters.

Actually, the mediation machinery already has broken down, and the presence in China of United States armed forces continues only in America's desire to hold the warfare to a minimum.

Behind the breakdown of Marshall's negotiations is the United States attitude toward the Nationalist government since the end of the Japanese war. Chinese Communist leaders insist that they will no longer accept United States mediation efforts as long as America insists upon supplying the Chiang Kai-shek government through sales of surplus goods.

They accuse the Marshall mission of acting in the guise of mediators while the actual United States goal is to hold the Chinese Communists in check through material support of the Nationalists.

On both sides, informants contend, there is a lack of sincerity that has brought Marshall's work to a standstill. And China is still torn by civil war.

It is an even bet that the House merchant marine committee's investigation of the war-time profits of operators of government shipyards will never emerge from its present bogged-down status.

It was deferred until after election to allow committee members to go home and campaign. Before that, a parade of witnesses submitted a maze of figures that left at least some of the committee members baffled.

When the parade ended, it appeared that the shipyard operators had scored better in the public prints than their critics. For one thing, two Washington newspapers carried editorials ridiculing the probe and slapping at "publicity seekers." Both committee members and their staff were unhappy at this development.

Shipbuilders were able to show that, although some set up companies with very little capital stock, they had debenture or other loans available in the amounts needed to handle their jobs. Critics hit back with the contention that loans were easy to get after contracts had been obtained.

The witnesses also turned the spotlight from their percentage in profits in relation to their capital stock to its relationship to the volume of work they did. That looked more favorable—profits before taxes of some 4 to 7 per cent, and after taxes as little as less than one per cent in some cases.

Words Of Wisdom

No state can be more destitute than that of a person who, when the delights of sense forsake him, has no pleasure of the mind.—Burke.

The new maritime strike had at least one good result. It succeeded in equalizing, for the first time in history, wage rates in the industry on all coasts.

Government labor experts believe that future wage controversies in the industry will be much easier to cope with, although there still will remain the complicated union structure.

The CIO represents the bulk of the sailors on the east coast while the AFL has the longshoremen. On the west coast, the AFL represents the sailors while the CIO has the dock workers.

Now, at any rate, the wage rates for the seamen will be the same on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts, despite the mixed union representation.

Before the new strike there were many differentials between coasts.

The World and the Mud Puddles

TWO SIDES OF THIS QUESTION

The two great Labor organizations desire the manufacturers to show their books to the Unions. The President of the United States a short while ago undertook to back up this demand by naming a "fact finding" commission, which was supposed to check the books of employers in order to decide what wages they could pay. The commission had no legal status. Congress refused to pass a Bill requested by the President to validate them. Congress refused for the simple reason that the Constitution of the United States provides that the people shall be secure in their persons and papers.

Of course, there is another side to this proposition. The public would be very much interested to have the Unions show their books. It might be illuminating also the members of the Unions to find out just what disposition is made of the millions they contribute in initiation fees, dues and penalties. It would interest the people generally to know how much the Unions are spending—in plain violation of the corrupt practices laws—to further political control of the government.

With the head of the Rail Brotherhoods threatening to pour out millions to elect to beat Truman, the PAC announcing a six million dollar campaign fund to help keep the New Deal in power, it would interest to see the accounting made by the Unions.

The suggestion of any legislation which would require financial accountability from Unions—whose accumulated millions escape federal taxation—evokes apoplectic cries from the AFL, CIO and UMW that somebody is trying to trespass on the "sacred

Seek To Tighten
Air Traffic Rules
To Halt Tragedies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The safety bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Board today proposed a general tightening up of air traffic rules to decrease aviation hazards.

A circular letter outlining revision of traffic rules was sent to about 1,600 members of the aviation industry, asking comments and suggestions for a new final draft of part 60 of civil air regulations. The new regulations will be based on today's proposals, plus worthwhile revisions suggested by the industry.

Few of the changes proposed by the safety bureau are radical. They are designed to promote greater aviation safety and to amend American regulations that do not conform with the international standards, practices and procedures approved in Montreal by the provisional international civil aviation organization some months ago.

Major proposals outlined by the bureau consist of:

1. Changing the phrase "contact flight" to "visual flight" because of the ambiguity arising from translation of the former word;

2. Simplification of visibility requirements;

3. Definition of "ground visibility" as that determined at an airport and "flight visibility" as that determined by the pilot; and

4. Rules for the operation of aircraft on the surface of the water conforming closely to marine regulations.

An important proposal that would minimize the danger of planes flying into skyscrapers provides that in instrument flight no plane shall fly below 1,000 feet above the highest obstacle within five miles. Previously minimum altitudes were governed by ground level.

President Names
Delegates To UN
Cultural Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—President Truman today named the five United States representatives to the first session of the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization to be held in Paris next month.

They are: Assistant Secretary of State William Benton; former congressional librarian Archibald MacLachlan; Dr. George D. Stoddard, president of the University of Illinois; Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Washington; and Ann O'Hare McCormick, newspaper woman.

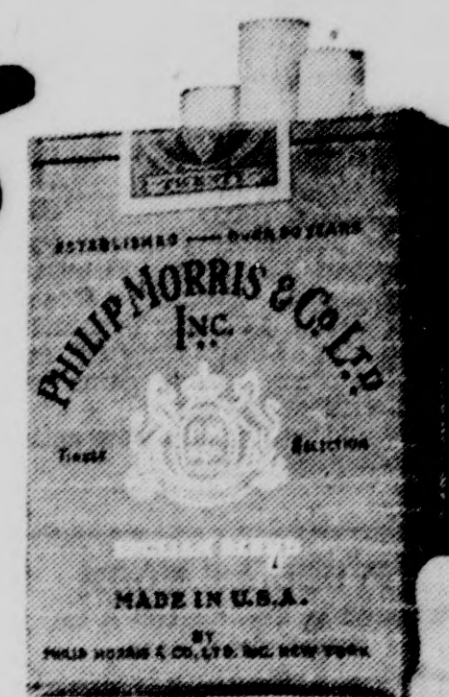

The president also named five alternates. They are Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University of Kansas and brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower; Chester Bowles, former OPA administrator; Anna Rosenberg, of the advisory board of the office of reconversion; Charles Johnson, of Fiske University; and George Shuster, president of Hunter College.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Academy Award Winner Joan Crawford is off for New York City just as fast as she gets finished with "Possessed," probably two or three weeks hence.

"I'm going to sleep, sleep, then sleep some more," Joan told your reporter out at Warners. "I'm tired."

Your reporter suggested that she might want to take in all the new plays.

"Oh yes," Joan replied, "but first I'm thinking of nothing but sleeping."

After that I want to go up to Canada and get some snow and cold.

"I plan to take a good two months' rest."

As soon as she gets back, Joan, who may win a second "Oscar" for "Humoresque," will start work immediately in "Portrait in Black" for Skirball-Manning Productions.

While your reporter was wandering around in the sunlight at Warners he heard a report that Greta Garbo may return to the screen next year in a Warner production.

A story is being prepared to submit to her.

I would mark the great Garbo's first screen effort in four years. Her last was "Ninotchka" for MGM.

A studio executive phoned Humphrey Bogart the other day to inform him they'd just got word from the London office that the royal family had expressed the desire to see "The Big Sleep," that's Bogart's last starrer with his missus, Lauren Bacall, known to the family and friends as "Betty."

"That's fine," said Bogart, and then he continued:

"I've got some news for you—Betty has just laid an egg."

"What!" shouted the excited executive, "that's impossible!"

"Oh," said Bogart, "don't be so fast. I don't mean my Betty. I mean our hen Betty."

It seems that the Bogarts introduced a couple of chickens when they bought their new house from Henry Lamarr.

A pastoral Humphrey Bogart is something this reporter must see this week.

On Friday night, the night before U. C. L. A. played Stanford, Producer Mark Hellinger, one of their ardent supporters, gave a special showing of his latest picture for the team. The picture was "The Killers." The Bruins followed up by slaughtering Stanford, 26 to 6.

Your reporter ran into very pretty Martha Vickers on the set of "Love and Learn." He wanted to know what she had planned for 1947.

Martha answered promptly to wit: "I want to win an academy award and a husband."

RUSHING TO BUY

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(INS)—A rush to buy securities and commodities today greeted President Truman's announcement lifting meat price controls. The tape ran two minutes late right after the start.

Stocks were bid up as much as six points in the first hour of the strongest opening in two months.

The biggest early gains were scored by non-packing shares, such as American Telephone, Firestone, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, General Foods, National Biscuit, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler and General Motors. Their gains ran from one to six points.

Bonds and curb stocks were active and moderately higher.

Senior High Girls
Hear Of Life Of Peru's Teen-Agers

Bobby-soxers in Peru haven't quite the carefree life of most American teen-agers, but in many respects the two groups are quite similar, said Miss Gertrude Hanks, former Senior High school teacher, in an address to the Senior High school girls Monday.

Miss Hanks has just recently returned to the United States after serving as principal of a girls' high school in Lima, Peru.

The Indians and back country people of Peru are, of course, much different from American youth, but the young people of the coast have much in common with ours. Only a small percentage of girls go to high school, but those who do, usually go on to college, and then into a career either in their native country or in the United States.

Schedules are much tougher in Peruvian schools than in ours, Miss Hanks emphasized. Not only are all of the sciences required, but all of the courses except geography and history of Peru are studied in English.

All of the students are extremely courteous, and usually very intelligent. And, incidentally, boys and girls do not attend the same schools.

Of City Driver

During the week ending October 4, the Bureau of Highway Safety withdrew the license of one New Castle driver for speeding, and restored driving privileges to an Ellwood City motorist, and one New Castle driver.

Total removals for the period included 34 revocations and 33 suspensions. Restorations were made to 272 motorists.

Union School Board
Honors H. W. Sontum

Honoring H. W. Sontum, for twenty-three years secretary of the Union Township school board, the board members met for a dinner in the cafeteria of Union High school Monday evening.

The meal was served by Mrs. Zela Fox, who is in charge of the school's cafeteria. In appreciation for his services for so many years, Mr. Sontum was presented with a gift by Joseph Elsworth, on behalf of the board and the township citizens.

After the dinner, board members held their regular meeting. A guest of the evening was J. Arthur Turek, supervising principal of the township.

Discount Rumors Duke Of Windsor To Succeed Brother

Circles Close To Duke Do Not Believe He Will Take Post In Australia

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Circles close to the Duke of Windsor discounted rumors that the former British monarch is scheduled to succeed his younger brother, the Duke of Gloucester, in the governor-generalship of Australia.

Royal and parliamentary circles took a similar view.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, his associates pointed out, have booked a large suite aboard the Queen Elizabeth for an early November sailing on that luxury liner. They are taking their entire staff of domestic and secretarial employees, and are expected to be in the United States and Canada until early spring.

Whitehall sources believe the new governor-general of Australia will be someone of prominence in Australia, in accordance with that country's labor government's avowed policy.

Meantime, court circles expressed the belief that there will be no alteration in the present status of the Duchess of Windsor, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore. She presently is a "junior duchess."

Her chances of being presented to the king and queen still "remain impossible in the highest degree," these sources say. She returned only last week to Britain, after nearly ten years of virtual exile following her marriage to the man who gave up the throne for her love.

Rumors that the duke would be next governor-general at Canberra came in news dispatches from Sydney, appearing in the News Chronicle.

Youth Detonates Dynamite Wagon Firing At Bird

PLYMOUTH, Wis., Oct. 15.—(INS)—The most surprised lad in Wisconsin, Monday was Robert Marth, 16, of Plymouth.

Bob saw a sparrow perched on the wheel of a wagon standing in a farmer's field Sunday. Look his rifle and fired at it. He missed, so he tried again.

He doesn't know yet whether he hit the bird, because his second shot was followed by a tremendous explosion that shook Plymouth like an earthquake, smashed windows and loosened plaster in more than 100 dwellings, stores and factories.

The wagon held a load of 1,300 pounds of dynamite, which was detonated by the shot. Although Marth fired from a distance of 150 feet, he was uninjured despite the blast which left a 15 by 30 foot crater and severed high tension power lines. No trace of the wagon was found.

Police Chief Glenn M. Zimmerman arrested Marth and George Gardner, 65, owner of the dynamite. Gardner will be charged with illegal storage of explosives.

GOOD CLIMATE

RIO DE JANEIRO.—(INS)—Brazil always has good weather, and the meteorological service of Panair do Brazil is ready to prove it with 20 years of statistics compiled from coastal and interior observation stations. Brazilians cannot remember a cyclone, a hurricane or an earthquake. Younger Slant On The Town

For those few who do not yet know it, we have the news of the return of Bud Green... and for those (even fewer) persons who do not know Bud, he has the words, "boy, that's tough"... home on a 21-day leave, he'll go to Cadbury Field when his time is up. Bud is a swabbie. Now it's the Battle of the Bowling Alley... it happened on Sunday and a couple of females were the participants... which proved again that women can put up a better fight verbally than men can with their fists... it seems that one of the girls got on the other one's nerves. Mary Keefe and Tommy Sentac (from Rochester) were at the Pitt Temple game on Saturday... a lot of New Castle youngsters are making plans to attend the Pitt-Purdue game. Among the many who were rooting for New Castle (or at least watching them play) Friday evening were Jane McGrew and Les Kemp, Sal McMillan and Don McGrew. Dot and Sonny Gauthier. Bob Speed was down town, but he looked as if he were going to work rather than coming from the game. Dora Naples was home from Shippery Rock over the week-end... she's a junior. And as long as we're discussing

York City getting married to Harry Marietta of Ellwood City...

Bob Fox is out of the hospital now, but he was pretty sick for a week...

Mary Alice Kleckner is taking commercial art at San Jose State college in California... she'll get an A B degree, with a minor in languages.

Jane Dieterle who attended Penn State for a while, and Audrey Casburn both like Pinkerton Business college in Pittsburgh, but they wish people would quit asking them if it's a training school for the Pinkerton detective agency; it isn't... the girls will graduate next January...

Tom Palmer, who has been referred to as the poultry prince and godfather of a gang of young lotharios, can be seen almost any night of the week arguing with his progeny over which war was the toughest...

Trudi Corbin, who is a striking brunette in case you're trying to remember her, will be married in Philadelphia soon.

Western Hemisphere As Single Defense Unit Could Stand Up

By FRANCES MUSIC
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—An army document today revealed military belief that the western hemisphere, if organized into a single defense unit, could stand up under a large-scale atomic bomb attack.

This material disclosed also that recent United States Army and Navy expeditions in the Arctic have laid the groundwork for the solution of the over-all problems of strategic defense against transpolar attack.

The document was prepared by the army's education and information branch for officers to use in leading organized discussions with other military personnel.

Could Make Defense

Entitled "army talk," the document asserted:

"If now, instead of a single country, we consider the entire western hemisphere, properly organized, as the defensive unit, it is immediately apparent that even a large-scale surprise atomic bombing attack could hardly destroy its ability to retaliate before counter measures could be initiated and the atomic war carried to the aggressor country."

"No nation could count on knocking out the united and organized western hemisphere with a single blow. It would therefore not be a tempting target."

It was declared that "hemisphere defense offers more chance of survival than mere national defense."

The document said that although the George Inter-American cooperation bill died in committee when Congress adjourned the measure will be reintroduced in practically the same form.

The bill was designed to standardize military and naval training, tactics and equipment throughout the western hemisphere so that all the various forces could be integrated into a single defense force.

Cry of Yankee Imperialism

The document observed: "The cry of 'Yankee imperialism' goes up in Russia. Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, asks: 'How does one reconcile a policy of military blocs and preparedness offensives with loyalty to the charter and the principles of the United Nations?'"

The document emphasized "the vulnerability of Canada and the United States to air-borne attack from across the frozen north."

Attention was focused on the fact that "it is only 2,733 miles from Murmansk, Russia to Point Barrow, Alaska, and between 4,000 and 4,500 miles from any point on the north coasts of Europe and Asia to middle Canada."

The pamphlet pointed out that three army task forces will test a wide variety of specially designed equipment under all possible winter combat conditions soon, asserting:

"In this connection it should be noted that Russia has announced that polar air and sea navigation will play a large part in the new five-year plan."

Hygiene Studies In Industry Aim Of New Committee

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The Industrial Hygiene Foundation announced that the newly formed committee on chemistry and toxicology, will hold its first conference November 8 in Pittsburgh.

The committee, headed by Henry F. Smyth, Jr., Ph.D., senior fellow of Pittsburgh's Mellon Institute, included:

Francis R. Holden, head industrial hygienist of the I.H.F., Pittsburgh; E. C. Barnes, industrial hygienist, Westinghouse Electric Corp., East Pittsburgh; D. A. Russell, chief chemist, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, Youngstown, O.; H. H. Schrenk, chief health division, U.S. Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh; and W. P. Yant, director of research and development, Mine Safety Appliances Company, Pittsburgh.

The Industrial Hygiene Foundation, with headquarters in the Mellon Institute, is a national association of industries for the advancement, through research, of employee health and the improvement of physical working conditions.

Prepare Red Feathers For Campaign

YWCA Girl Reserves of both the city and county have been preparing red feathers and stickers so that the supplies would be ready for Community Chest workers this week.

Many of the girls worked every night after school, and some gave their entire Saturday afternoon. Not all were present when this picture was taken.

The group included: Louise Pagley and Julie Rozzi of Ben Franklin; Darlene Hall, Patty Forbes, Carol Forbes, Elvera Karski, Ella Mae Anderson, Dolores Jean Kirkwood, Mary Jane Bayuk, Barbara Morrow, and Miss Marietta Daugherty of the J. P. Byers Girl Reserves.

June Shoaff, Mildred Hay, Dolores Rhodes, and Juanita Parks of the Shenango Girl Reserves; and Shirley Atkinson, Donna Walker, Evelyn Lowe, Colleen Owens, Margaret Harris, Eleanor Taylor, Marilyn Cox, Gwendolyn Bazley, Dolores Webber, Ruth Bowers, Barbara Wagner, Susan Pander, Margaret McKenzie, Beverly Milliron, Joan Cooper, Frances Harmon, Elizabeth Sims, Myrtle Robinson, Gaylene Deiger, and Nancy Burkholder of the Washington Girl Reserves and the Elm Street Girl Reserves.

Divorce Factory Kept Rushed In Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Disputes keep one production line moving in Detroit.

In fact, arguments have helped this unique assembly line to break all records in turning out finished items at the rate of about one every three minutes.

The site of this breath-taking pace is Detroit's "divorce factory" located in the soot-covered Wayne county building.

Every employee is keyed to this booming business. Guards, clerks and doormen returned a bored "Oh, well—another one" look when asked for directions to the circuit court. The elevator operator is known for concocting the slogan "It's easier to get unhitched than hitched in Detroit."

Makes A Girl Wonder

A tour of this assembly line makes a girl wonder, however. "What chance do I have . . . ?"

There's the case of the middle-aged woman with the exclusive black feathered hat—one of 25 cases handled daily by Judge Lila Nuenfeldt's court. A mother of two children, married 16 years, she now charges her husband with extreme cruelty.

As the judge shuffles through the woman's lengthy complaint, four attorneys march toward the clerk's desk—with new bills.

"Well—he refused to support me and . . ."

"I can't hear you," the judge insists and then asks the court speculators for "quiet please."

"Well—he refused to support me," the woman repeats, "and doesn't want to live with me."

There is a sudden jab of the rubber stamp and a decisive "step down." The divorce is granted—in less than three minutes.

The clerk calls "next case" the wheels of the divorce mill go around and the divorce rates go up.

Had 600 Uncompleted Cases

The courts had a docket of 600 uncompleted cases one week before judges to "share" the hearing load. And in June—the month of brides and flowers—1,180 divorces were granted compared to 3,507 marriages.

Divorce production charts in 1945 gave Michigan 17,664 bills filed against 11,399 cases—reported in Reno—long acclaimed the nation's divorce capital.

The cause? The friend of the courts office points to the influx of war workers and out of towners attracted by the state's legislation which provides divorces with only one-year's residence.

Back in the courtroom, there is a woman sitting in the front row of the crowded narrow wooden benches. "Gee, I hope the judge hurries with my divorce," she states, "or I'll be late for work . . ."

Her witness looks amazed and comments, "You should have seen how long it took me."

Or the gray-haired woman on the stand who charges that her husband "hasn't taken me out in ten years." And her helpful attorney prompts:

"You mean you live like a hermit?"

The mother of four children, answers quickly: "Yes, sir."

With a full thud of the rubber stamp another "three-minute" unit is finished—and court officials claim that "Once the trust is broken, there is no reconciliation."

KEEPING EXPENSES DOWN

If you knew that you might have hospital and doctor bills for several hundred dollars and could avoid them by paying a few dollars for Accident Insurance, you would buy it quickly. An accident may happen any day. Why wait to insure?

Outruns Police Car, Youth Says He Was Practicing

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—(INS)—

Now Philadelphia has a "Gazelle" boy.

He's a well-dressed youth who outraced a police red car for two blocks.

The policemen spotted the youth dashing down the street and, thinking perhaps he was a robbery suspect, gave chase.

The runner ran faster, and the cop driving the red car had to squeeze every bit of speed possible out of his vehicle before he finally caught up with the speeding youth.

Coming alongside the boy, the cop blew his horn. The youth stopped dead, whirled around, opened the car door, and stepped in.

He sat down and offered his right hand to the patrolman without a word.

Flabbergasted, the cop asked him what he was doing.

"Practicing," the youth replied. "I'm on a track team."

Four Sentenced For Defrauding By Padded Payrolls

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—(INS)—

Four South Philadelphia men drew years and a day sentences in federal court today on charges of defrauding the government of $70,000 in padded payrolls.

The men, partners in a ship cleaning company, pleaded guilty to the charges two weeks ago.

The four are John Vassilopoulos, Louis Brodsky, Leonard Barone, and his step-son, Charles Benza-

Their pleas of guilty October 1 brought to a sudden end an eight day trial during which the government presented evidence that through a "dummy" subcontractor, given the name of "Peter Komolowski," the four, who operated under the name of the South Philadelphia Boiler and Tank Cleaning Company, bilked the government out of upwards of $70,000.

Attlee Promises Statement On Invasion Plans

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee promised the House of Commons Monday that he will make a statement at the next session "covering the German invasion plans of England in 1940."

This statement, when it comes, will be the first official public exposition of how the Germans planned to strike across the channel, after the downfall of France.

There has been wide speculation, both in military and political circles, as to what the Germans planned to do and why they didn't do it.

In the early days of the war Winston Churchill gave credit to the RAF for stopping the German invasion in the historic phrase:

"Never have so many owed so much to so few."

CANADA'S MEAT PRICES UNCHANGED

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Canadian rationing and meat prices will be unaffected, it was said today, by the lifting of ceilings in the United States.

Government sources said there was no prospect of Canada abandoning price controls, rationing of meat or abandonment of two meatless days a week.

There has been wide speculation, both in military and political circles, as to what the Germans planned to do and why they didn't do it.

In the early days of the war Winston Churchill gave credit to the RAF for stopping the German invasion in the historic phrase:

"Never have so many owed so much to so few."

LOOK OUT FOR PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong! And these pests, living inside the human body, can cause real distress.

So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the irritating rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P.W. and follow the directions.

P.W. is the Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-take P.W. tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

Ask your druggist: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

New Miracle Relief FOR CRIPPLING PAINS DUE TO ARTHRITIS and RHEUMATISM

"I couldn't believe it. The pain that had tortured and crippled me was gone! I had just about lost hope I would ever find real freedom from the terrible anguish I was suffering. Now those agonizing pains have been brought under control, and so quickly. I thought at first it must be a dream. But it wasn't a dream. It was true! How lucky for me, and the thousands of unfortunate like me, that the new formula known as EMDRIN, and the blessed, fast acting ingredient it contains, has been made available. That is the way the pitiful victims of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago and neuralgia who have tried EMDRIN praise and recommend this amazing preparation, that so miraculously aids in giving almost unbelievable relief from the symptomatic pains resulting from these torturous ailments."

WONDER-WORKING EMDRIN INGREDIENT GOES TO WORK WITH MAGICAL SPEED!

For years laboratory scientists have been searching for an ingredient that would quickly, safely, effectively help to rid the misery and discomfort of those who suffer from arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, so effective, so potent is this amazing ingredient that it is acclaimed one of the new wonders of a new era in the type of treatment. It goes to work instantly and the quick relief it helps bring has been called sensational.

So you may be sure to get genuine Emdrin, tear out this message and show it to your doctor. You may try Emdrin without risking a penny. Taken as directed Emdrin must prove satisfactory or money will be refunded. Emdrin is sold at Eckerd's, Payless, and drug stores everywhere.

Can Still Register Some Service Men

Those Discharged Since September 14 Can Still Be Registered To Vote

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Service men or women who have been discharged from the armed forces since September 14, the last day to register, can be registered up to and including the last day before the election on November 5. This ruling was passed Monday morning by the county commissioners when it was drawn to their attention that a number of ex-service men and women had come home since the last day to register, and wanted to vote.

The rule applies only to men and women discharged from service since September 14. It does not apply to civilians nor to service men and women who had opportunity to register before the books closed in September.

NOT FOR MEAT

It should be said in behalf of Sheriff Frank L. Coen that he is not attempting to ease the meat shortage with deer meat. But it is a fact that he has a two weeks' old fawn in his home which was brought in by some sportsmen.

The fawn evidently had become lost from its mother and was straying around in Union township. Fearing that dogs might kill it, the two sportsmen brought it into Sheriff Coen.

It is unusual for fawns to be born this time of year and the history of them is that they do not live. Mrs. Coen is feeding the baby fawn on a milk bottle and hopes to be able to raise it. When and if it is raised it will be turned into the woods. In size it is no larger than a hound dog.

CIVIL COURT

Civil court started Monday morning but like most other courts will not last long. One case has been tried and an agreement reached before it went to the jury, another was started in court room number one and the last went to trial today in court room number two.

In court room number one the case of Ann Welsh of Bessemer, against Allen C. Stewart of Bessemer was called. The plaintiff claims damages for injuries alleged to have been received when she tripped on a step in a building owned by the defendant and was injured.

In court room number two the case of William and Agnes Moore against Robert Holliday and Robert Cole was called. This was a damage suit arising out of an automobile accident on the Ellwood City-Evans City highway January 3, 1942. An agreement was reached whereby the defendant will pay $1000 each to Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

There were a number of cases docketed for this term of court but most of them were settled. Judge Walter Braham believes the small number of cases for trial may be due to two things. First the continued effort of members of the bar to settle cases wherever possible. Second, it is the local court practice of settling cases for trial, early, and keeping up a constant effort to obtain a settlement or early trial.

SET HEARING DATE

The court has set October 28 as the day when the constitutionality of a city ordinance will be decided. The ordinance provided prosecution for any cafe licensee who permitted soldiers in his place of business when the military had declared the premises off limits. The test arises out of a fine assessed against Angelo Casacchio when it is alleged soldiers were found in his cafe when the cafe was off limits by order of the military.

Realistic Lessons In First Aid Shown At Lincoln School

Dramatized Accidents And Emergencies Impress On Students
Necessity Of Acting Quickly

The necessity of acting quickly at the scene of an accident or tragedy is being impressed indelibly on the minds of boys and girls in attendance at the Lincoln-Garfield grade school on East Long avenue. For the past four weeks, Mrs. Theodore Castelle, of the American Red Cross, Lawrence County Chapter, has been teaching a thorough course in first aid to the boys and girls, with a live demonstration being presented to the student body on Friday afternoon, to make the lessons more vivid.

Each of the major types of accidents were demonstrated by members of the first aid class, with the assistance of their teachers and city firemen, with the result the students have an idea as to what to do in time of emergency.

Among the outstanding demonstrations portrayed to the student body were the proper use of the fire extinguisher. A school extinguisher was used for the demonstration with the instrument being torn apart showing its inward mechanism.

Present on the program were two city firemen Wellington F. Pulford and John Oberleitner who expertly demonstrated the use of the city pulmotor with a "live" patient being used to show the effectiveness of the machine.

Other demonstrations included a bedroom fire; room on fire; live wire accidents; how to apply a tourniquet with the afternoon program winding up with a mass artificial respiration demonstration, when 30 students were used as patients, while 30 more gave the demonstration.

The program owed much of its success to Martin Leonhardt, physical education instructor in the school, who planned the various demonstrations of the afternoon. In a few days, a Junior Red Cross first aid examination will be given to the pupils to ascertain how much they learned through the intensive course that has been given.

THREATEN HUNGER STRIKE
LONDON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Hundreds and fifty British military prisoners threatened today to start a hunger strike and stage a riot at Dartmoor prison unless they are released within 10 days.

Twenty-five other former soldiers have ended their four-day hunger strike without receiving the freedom they demanded.

Bell Telephone Will Have Open House Next Week

Public Will Be Given Opportunity To Go Through Local Exchange, Jaquish Announces

For the first time since before the war, the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania will entertain public visitors next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings (October 22-23-24) at an open house program in the New Castle telephone office at 31 South Mercer street, it was announced today by Nathan N. Jaquish, manager of the company.

Extending a general invitation to residents of New Castle and surrounding sections served by the New Castle central office, Mr. Jaquish stated that guides will conduct tours through the telephone exchange between the hours of 6 and 9 p. m. on each of the open house evenings.

"This open house will give residents of this section a good opportunity to go behind the scenes and see the nerve center of their communications system at work," the manager said. "In addition, special exhibits are being brought here for display and demonstration during the program," he added.

Visitors will be able to look on while actual local and long distance calls are being handled by the operators.

Details of the Bell company's $150,000,000 postwar expansion program will be explained and special exhibits will show many of the latest developments in the field of communications.

Operation of mobile radio-telephone and overseas radio-telephone systems will be explained and the transmission of television programs over telephone lines and radio-relay systems will be described.

"The conducted tours of the telephone exchange will take approximately one hour and should prove both entertaining and educational to our guests," Mr. Jaquish said.

GENERAL SCORES RAPID DISBANDING OF AMERICAN FORCES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—(INS)—Brigadier General Emmett O'Donnell, leader of the first large-scale B-29 raid on Tokyo, today maintained that the United States demobilized too rapidly. O'Donnell told the National Exchange club that quick demobilization was the "most serious mistake this country ever made," and said it was "sheer lunacy to stand for a moment in this chaotic world without the protection of a modern and adequate armed force."

Allegheny Scout Leader Retiring

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—(INS)—After 24 years as head executive of the Allegheny council of Boy Scouts, Andy T. Benson indicated today he plans to retire because of ill health. He said he presented his retirement request, effective December 31, to the scout executive board.

During his tenure as chief executive, the Allegheny council expanded to the fifth largest in the nation. When Benson arrived in Pittsburgh from Louisville, Ky., a quarter-century ago, the council membership consisted of 38 troops totaling 800 scouts. Today the council comprises 543 troops and 12,441 scouts. The council also has grown and now embraces all of Beaver county and a portion of Westmoreland county, in addition to most of Allegheny.

AUTO ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL TO COLLEGE STUDENT

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 15.—(INS)—Injuries sustained in an automobile accident near State College Saturday proved fatal today to John L. Stewart of Rimersburg, an 18-year-old student at Pennsylvania State college.

The youth was a passenger in a car driven by a fellow student, Charles I. William of Queens Village, N. Y. The vehicle swerved from the highway and crashed into a tree during a heavy rain. William escaped with minor injuries.

Seventh Ward North Beaver Group Plans Volunteer Fire Department

Public Will Attend Meeting Thursday For Further Discussion, And Elect Officers

On Thursday evening members of the newly organized Volunteer Fire department of North Beaver Township will meet in North Beaver Township Consolidated school at 8 o'clock. Robert Miller is chairman of the new venture.

On Tuesday evening, October 8, a group of North Beaver folks gathered in the high school in answer to invitations regarding the necessity of organizing a volunteer fire department with the above result. At the meeting Thursday evening, there will be further discussions on the subject, and temporary officers elected and committees appointed. Another item for discussion will be the advisability of taking over the old Legion hall, to preserve a historical landmark in the township. This building has been offered for any worthy civic movement, otherwise the building will be offered at public auction to be razed.

The public is welcome to attend the meeting.

AUXILIARY TO HAVE HALLOWEEN DANCE

REDSTONE TEACHER STRIKE CONTINUES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 15.—(INS)—The Redstone township teachers' strike continued into its fifth day today with 111 teachers demanding a $400 yearly salary boost.

The walkout, affecting 3224 pupils, was called Friday after Alfred De-frigo, a spokesman for the instructors, announced that many of the teachers were forced to cash life insurance policies in order to meet the present high cost of living.

The township recently paid out $60,000 to clear up a three-month back pay deficit but school board members declared that further salary increases were impossible because of the lack of funds.

HAND PROPELLED MARLOWE, Ala.—(INS)—M. J. Commanner recently observed his 25th year of ferrying traffic across the 225-foot Fish river at Marlowe—with every crossing pro-bailed by hand. Commanner furnishes the power for the tony river craft by tugging on a cable that stretches across the stream.

Rev. J. L. McFarland Will Be Installed

New Pastor Of Second Baptist Church To Be Installed At Ceremony October 20

Rev. J. L. McFarland, who has occupied the pulpit of the Second Baptist church of North street since last April, will be formally installed as pastor of the church Sunday afternoon October 20, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Hariston of Pittsburgh will serve as the installation officer for the church.

In his short time as pastor of the church Rev. McFarland has accomplished much. Attendance and membership have increased, finances are in sound condition, and some $3600 worth of improvements have been made to the parsonage. Of this amount, $3250 has been paid.

"In the Second Baptist church, we have proven the fact there need be no begging for funds for the church, no suppers, bazaars or programs to which admissions is charged. Our people are alive to their church responsibilities, and as a result we do not resort to cheap money raising tactics which are unworthy of the church."

Each night this week there will be special services in the church, preceding the Sunday installation service.

Resident's Mother Dies At Greenville

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday, for Mrs. Mary Ella Blystone Eastlick, wife of George H. Eastlick, of 83 South Race street, Greenville, who died suddenly at 6:20 a.m. Sunday, of a heart ailment.

New Battle Over Franco Spain To Be Staged Today

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Another scrap over Franco Spain was due to be staged by the United Nations security council today.

As usual, it will be Soviet Russia and Poland versus the United States, Great Britain and the overwhelming majority of the council.

This time, it will be over Spain's right to appear before the bar of the international court of justice.

All of the 11 member governments of the security council are in agreement that Spain should not be admitted to United Nations membership so long as Generalissimo Francisco Franco overlorded the Madrid regime.

Russia and Poland, however, are demanding that Spain be denied access to the international court—principal judiciary agency of the United Nations.

The Anglo-American group hold that any non-member nation is entitled to its day in court, either as a plaintiff or a defendant.

Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet delegate, so far has waged a successful fight to keep the Franco government out of any United Nations organization under any circumstances whatever.

The Anglo-American group hold that any non-member nation is entitled to its day in court, either as a plaintiff or a defendant.

Other officers elected at the meeting were John L. Morrison, Greenville, vice president; Miss Helen Reed, Sharon, secretary; and D. W. Zahniser, Mercer, treasurer.

Building Razed With No Accidents

Something of a record was established by George Griffiths, who was in charge of the razing of the old K. of C. building on North Jefferson street, who recently carried out a contract for the Pennsylvania Power company.

A job of that kind involves many hazards, but the work was fully completed without an accident of any kind to anyone connected with it. Care was exercised by the workmen not only for their own safety but also for the safety and convenience of passersby so that falling objects would not endanger life or property.

Bible Teacher Will Appear At Mission

Rev. O. E. Phillips, of Philadelphia, who has spoken in this city before, will open a four day series of illustrated Bible lectures in the City Rescue Mission, 17 South Mercer street, beginning Thursday evening, October 31 and continuing through Sunday, November 3.

Rev. Phillips, who is a nationally known conference speaker, addresses his audiences along prophetic lines using slide pictures to illustrate his timely subjects.

Declare Decontrol Of Meat Action Delayed Too Long

COLUMBUS, O. Oct. 15.—(INS)—Republican National Chairman B. Carroll Reece and two of Ohio's top GOP leaders placed their stamp of approval today on President Truman's action decontrolling meat and livestock but held that it was a political move.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati and former Gov. John W. Bricker, now his party's candidate for the U. S. Senate, joined Reece in approving decontrol, but adding that the action should have been taken months ago.

The three Republican leaders were in Columbus to attend the annual fall meeting of the Ohio Federation of Republican women's organizations.

The national chairman declared that decontrol "comes after the damage has been done" and added: "It will take some time to remedy the situation. What he is doing by executive order should have been done by law passed by Congress."

"And what he does by executive order he can undo by executive order after the election."

Elm St. Y. W. C. A.

Members of the Friendship club of the Elm Street Y.W.C.A. will assemble Wednesday evening, October 16, at 8 o'clock in the Elm Street center. Miss Doris Ward will present "Music for Fun" as the program for the evening. Miss Rosa Brown and Miss Thelma Stuart will be hostesses. The group spent the weekend at Camp East Brook. Husbands and friends of the girls were their guests Sunday afternoon, when a chicken dinner was enjoyed. Mrs. Ruth Hill, Mrs. Dorothy Hall, Mrs. Bessie Fitzhugh, Miss Ruth Brown and Miss Mildred Enns were in charge of arrangements.

NO TEACHER SHORTAGE

GREAT BEND, Kan.—(INS)—E. R. Sheldon, Great Bend superintendent of schools, gave two pairs of nylon to each of the city's schoolmarms who stayed throughout the term. He believes this was instrumental in reducing teacher turnover, so this year Sheldon is promising three pairs to each teacher at the end of the first month of classes.

Industrial Training Directors To Arrive For Convention Here

Industrial training directors from many states will begin arriving in New Castle Wednesday night and early Thursday morning to attend the convention of the American Society of Training Directors which will be in session in the Castleton Hotel Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The general convention chairman is R. O. Boden. Speakers at the various sessions of the convention will include outstanding men in the field of industrial training.

One of the speakers who will be heard at the convention is C. W. Hornum, vice president, Personnel and Public Relations for the New York Central Railroad.

Another speaker will be O. M. Aders, manager of industrial education for the Perfect Circle Company.

The convention was placed in New Castle when Pittsburgh was unable to handle it because of strikes. The delegates to the convention are expected to number between 250 and 300, with others coming as guests.

SEEK WHEREABOUTS OF "SUPER CHIEF" OF COMMUNIST RING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Ernie Adamson, chief counsel for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said today the committee will ask Prof. Louis F. Budenz to name the "secret Communist leader" in the United States.

Budenz, former editor of the Communist Daily Worker declared in a recent speech that there is a Communist "super-chief" directing the party line in the United States.

Adamson said the committee has invited Budenz to testify, but that no date has yet been set for the hearing.

The committee counsel said: "I hope Budenz also can make a complete revelation of the operation of the Communist police system in the United States and throughout the world."

Amazing New Way to Clean Silver in 10 SECONDS!

In a short ten seconds, Dippo, the wonderful, new silver cleaner, makes dull tarnished silver as clean as it was the day you got it.

There's no tiresome rubbing or polishing when you use Dippo. All you do is dip your silver in Dippo for ten seconds, rinse under cold water, wipe dry. That's all. Nothing could be faster or easier. Yet every speck of tarnish disappears!

Dippo is safer, too, for independent laboratory tests prove that silver cleaned with Dippo last years longer than silver that has been rubbed with cream or liquid polishes.

Don't wear yourself out cleaning silver the old-fashioned way! Buy Dippo!

Here's How Community Chest Funds Are Distributed

The monetary goal in the Community Chest of Lawrence County campaign this month is $88,800.

Arrival at this figure was not a hit-and-miss proposition. It was not picked out of the air of thin conjecture by idealistic but inexperienced men and women.

The business of setting a definite amount of money as necessary to operate 12 agencies and pay affiliated expenses was an arduous task, performed over a period of two months by men and women to whom business operations and accurate budgeting is routine.

The final approval of the goal is given only after thorough analysis of every item of income and expenditure of each of the Community Chest agencies by the Budget Committee, and the Board of Directors, volunteers all but nonetheless as concerned with the most economical operation of the Chest as with private businesses or enterprises.

Cards And Bosox Pinning Hopes On Ferriss-Dickson

Matter Of Some $42,000 Riding On Big Classic Today. For Winner

ST. LOUIS FANS ARE CONFIDENT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.—That wheezy and persistent old stay-late called the world series of 1946 was shuffling uncertainly about the open doors today in a lingering action, drawn out to the limit of a seventh and final episode.

Exhibited throughout a rare degree of stamina, it has succeeded only in becoming windy, ineffectual and just a little tiresome.

Neither dull nor even remotely bored, however, were the natives of St. Louis and environs, gathered at the focus of Sportsman's park—like flies about a sugar cake—for this last showdown between the Cardinals and the Boston Red Sox.

Plenty riding—This worthy, if unpredictable, pair finished all square at 3-1 in victories at the close of Sunday's sixth game, with Harry-the-Catapult Brecheen pulling the Cards even for the second time during the series. Today's finale, therefore, was for everything a ball player holds dear, including honor, glory and the gate receipts.

There will be, briefly, a matter of some $42,000 riding on the result—the approximate difference between the winner's player-pool of $127,739.32 and that of the loser, $85,159.53.

The gambling odds have decided at 2-3 in some instances and 13-20 in others, that the Red Sox race a short prize on several counts.

Ferriss Vs. Dickson—Dave Ferriss, 25-year-old winner in the American league this year, will pitch for the Sox against Murry Dickson of the Cardinals and, because he beat Murry in the third game by 4 to 0, the figure, "angle" and "underdog" boys can see no point in assuming that it won't happen again today.

Monday's game has been a series in 1946, the longest managed superbly by the "short" first baseman, leaving the Sox side open to some high-powered heroics by the small-time and unprivileged of the two ball nines. It has been a series, too, of alternate victories, with few having the hardihood to forecast just when the turn might come.

When the gates were opened at 9 a. m., 2,500 more commuted to the ballpark, the pavilion sections and about 2,000 S. R. O. parsons camped upon the concrete in the rear of the grandstand.

For no matter what had gone before or how many it may have been, St. Louis and her citizens were taking the finale of this world's series to their civic heart convinced that, for their beloved Cardinals, it was to be a day of great destiny.

How Series Money Will Be Split Up

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—If the Cardinals win the World Series today, the 34 Redbirds who have been voted full shares will receive a little more than $2,700 piece.

The Red Sox, who voted 41½ shares, will get about $3,100 each by winning.

If the Cards lose, they will receive individual slices of approximately $2,500.

The Red Sox figures in case of a Boston loss will be about $2,000.

The players share only in the receipts of the first four games, getting 70 per cent of the total intake. The players' total pool stands at $212,898.27, or 60 per cent, at $127,739.32 goes to the winner and 40 per cent, or $85,159.53, to the loser.

First-string hallbacks at Auburn this season are both pebes. Travis Tivoli operates at left half or tailback and Bill Wilson at right half or wingback.

Permission was obtained from the board for the use of the high school auditorium for a mass organization meeting of alumni and residents of the township to be held on Monday, October 21 at 8:00 p. m.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

NEW CASTLE BOOSTERS CLUB will meet at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in council chambers, city hall, according to an announcement made by President William Sands. Every member is requested to be accompanied by a friend. . . . Sam Cook, 314 Green street, is now a member of the "I caught a 'Muskie' club." He caught a 34-inch muskie in French creek, at Utica. It weighed nine pounds. . . . It is no surprise when a horse chews tobacco but Here & There knows a young fellow that chews both tobacco and her cud. . . . Rode out to a private fishing lake recent and found 14 endeavoring take blue pike, bass and catfish. . . . Tennessee U has lost only four games on its home field in 14 years. . . . Illinois football players soiled 1,418 pairs of sweat socks during their week of practice in anticipation of upsetting Notre Dame, according to Glen Freeman, manager of Memorial stadium's equipment room at Urbana, Ill. . . . "The breaks, which have been against Hank Day's Farrelites, were true against them last Friday and accounted for all but seven of New Castle's points" is the way the Sharon Herald sports scribe sums up the 22-0 New Castle victory. . . . William Kenny, 17, and Thomas Regan, also 17, both of Philadelphia, died following football scrimmage, last week.

United States Fish and Wildlife service decided to throw some light on the problem of wild ducks gobbling grain from harvest-heavy fields. Experts viewed a big revolving searchlight on a truck and drove it into the grain at Klamath Falls, Ore. The flashing beam scared the ducks off, and after a few frights, failed to return to the field. In the daytime, farmers use sound effects, simulated hand grenades, tossed out of planes flying at 700 feet and exploding with a terrifying noise but do not harm directly over the ducks. . . . Some times clubs purposely walk a man, even though he is not dangerous at bat. It is, at times, good strategy. If, when the hurler is on first, action takes place which means he must run, think and act fast, it may add to good luck for the opposition. When a pitcher takes the mound excited and short of breath, he is less capable than as if he had struck out. The opposing team knows it and is confident. Often they connect several times to make the walk much worthwhile. . . . James O'Donnell, Washington, and Roland Samner, Maryland, found guilty at Baltimore, of running a "ringer" in a Pimlico race, were found guilty but sentence was withheld, pending decision on their pleas for a new trial. A jury found the pair guilty of running the horse Flying Kites as the horse "Roucou". Flying Kites won one race and took $1,100 in prize money and was third in the other race, winning $150.

Physical Director Nick J. Koske of the Butler V. M. C. A. is teaching boxing to boys between the ages of nine and 12. . . . Patsy Brannigan, one of the best little fellows ever to lace a glove about his hand, taught boxing in New Castle Y several decades ago. . . . Joe Gordon, second baseman of the Yankees, will wear an Indian uniform next season and Tribe Pitcher Allie Reynolds will hurl for the Yankees. Both teams will benefit because of the deal, according to reports. . . . Frank Crespi, Cards, in military service, is one of the down-out watchers. He is still nursing a bad leg, broken three years ago in a slide. He expects to get out of service any day now. . . . Joe Gargallo, Cards catcher, once was a member of the St. Louis knot-hole gang. Now he's up there. . . . Most of the world series players are heading home after the fall classic. Some will go on exhibition tours and others on hunting trips. . . . Louie is slated for an exhibition appearance in Honolulu on Monday. . . . Rins Leasure, local watermelon, a good card in Honolulu, is likely to see him in action. . . . Most heavily attired player in sports is the hockey player. . . . There'll be a pot of roses for the team capturing the World Series. There were some empty seats at the Cardinals plant Tuesday but for today's game in Boston, which may prove the final, fans will be packed as tight as sardines in a box. . . . Howard S. Wilcox, 41, Indianapolis, was killed by a racing car while acting as a starter at a dirt track race at Converse, Ind. . . . Ky league career Barry had a glimpse of the job to be done before the season's opener. . . . A practice game held Monday afternoon with Midland of the Valley league gave Barry a glimpse of the job to be done before the season's opener.

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 15.—Westminster college's first soccer team will open its season Friday afternoon at Allegheny. The game will be part of the Allegheny college homecoming program that week-end.

Coach Harold Barry has been holding drills daily in preparation for the six-game schedule. Barry has very few experienced men to build around, with most of the boys learning the technical points for the first time.

A practice game held Monday afternoon with Midland of the Valley league gave Barry a glimpse of the job to be done before the season's opener.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. Oct. 15.—Coach Mel Helzer's Titans will be seeking their second win in as many weeks when they journey to Meadville this Saturday to tackle Allegheny.

Last Saturday the Titans edged out their first win of the season defeating Edinboro Teachers on the rain-soaked, blancherless field 7-0. Roy Venzel, freshman wingback from Kittanning tallied the games only score on a twelve-yard pass thrown by Joe DeMase. DeMase kicked the extra point.

The visitors threatened in the final period, but a pass interception by DeMase stopped the Teachers.

Until the Edinboro game, the Titans had yet to win a game, having tied both Slippery Rock and Juniata.

"I'm still looking for eleven men who can block, tackle, and run." These were the words that came from "Ace" Wiley, coach of Waynesburg College Yellow Jackets.

New Castle Faces Academy Lions At Stadium Friday

"Red Hurricane" Shooting For Fourth Win Of 1946 Season

Heightened by their stunning 22 to 0 triumph over the Farrell "Night Riders" last Friday the New Castle "Red Hurricane" football squad returned to the practice field Monday to get ready for the invading Erie Academy High Lions Friday evening at the stadium.

Academy took a 13 to 0 decision over the New Castle boys 12 years ago in 1934 in the last meeting of the two schools, and Phil Bridenbaugh's charges want to revenge that upset. New Castle holds the edge two to one in games played, however, winning 19 to 6, in 1926 and 14 to 6 in 1931.

Lions Licked Twice

The Erie Lions are bringing a season record of three wins, two defeats and a tie to New Castle Friday night. Duquesne upset Academy 14 to 6, and Erie East turned the trick 16 to 6, with Academy winning over Astabula 7 to 6.

Bradford 13 to 0 last Friday, and Erie Storm Vincent 7 to 0. The tie was with Mt. Carmel High 0-0.

New Castle has won three and lost three to date. Erie in the six games has scored 39 points, and given up 36 points. New Castle has scored 72 points and given up 50 to date in the six battles.

There may be a few changes in the New Castle backfield this week as Coach Bridenbaugh seeks to get more weight into the ball jugging department. "Birds" has several quippy linemen who would look good cracking a line for needed yardage.

Harold Hazlett of Rochester, Pa., decided George Clark colored of Pittsburgh in a hard fought 30-minute battle at the Arena. They are light-heavyweights.

The decision, no doubt, was for the fighting and delivered the stronger punches. There were no knockdowns in the 10 chapters.

Hazlett's blows hurt Clark in the fifth round and when Clark went to his corner he showed the effects of the punches.

Jack Biddle loses

At the tenth Harold forced the fighting and had the colored light-heavyweight backing around the ring and when the decision was rendered there was not much opposition to it.

Jack Biddle, local middleweight, was defeated by Clifford Thompson of Carnegie in the six-round semi-final. There were no knockdowns in the fight.

Thompson captured the decision because he was faster, was the more accurate puncher while Biddle's judgment of distance was off color. The judges gave the bout to Thompson.

Two Knockouts

The opening bout on the card, a four-rounder, ended in the first round after 2 minutes and 50 seconds of still punching with low Adams, 145, of Johnstown winning by a knockout over Butch Williams, colored, of Pittsburgh. Adams had Williams on the canvas twice previous to the kayo punch.

The second bout ended in a technical knockout in the third round after 1 minute and 36 seconds of mixing. George Beal, 140, of Rochester, Pa., colored, putting Sammy Mastrean of Pittsburgh, 140 away with a series of stiff rights and lefts to the jaw and body.

The third bout was a classy affair with young Art Kimmel, 147, of Altoona showing too much class for his opponent, George Ligons, 148, colored, of Pittsburgh. Kimmel received all three votes for his clever exhibition in his eighth professional fight. Kimmel is a stiff puncher and had Ligons worried in every one of the six hot rounds.

Mike Hogan of Pittsburgh refereed all of the bouts, with Charley Cherrozzi and Tommy Jones of New Castle acting as judges. The timer was Humbert Fazzone and "Bugs" Walther did the announcing.

DeGaulle May Be Asked To Accept Presidency Again

By JOHN E. LEE

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Political observers in Paris were agreed that Gen. Charles De Gaulle most likely will be asked to accept the presidency of France.

In a sense, one informant pointed out, the French popular vote on the new constitutional draft was a personal referendum on the general who recently resigned as French provisional president.

Though De Gaulle's cause was lost when more voters said "yes" than "no" to the new constitution, which he had asked them to reject, everybody believes that "tall Charlie" has assumed new stature. They feel he is the only man on whom all parties could agree for the presidency without much controversy.

This, however, does not mean he will become the next president of France.

Will Probably Decline
It is considered even more likely that Vincent Auriol, president of the constituent assembly, will become president of the Fourth Republic—but only if De Gaulle declines—as he probably will.

Those in De Gaulle's confidence say he cannot accept the presidency under a constitution which he denounces and which so sharply limits the powers of the office.

However, the job could be his for the asking, and all three major parties are expected to ask him.

The communists know their leader, Maurice Thorez, would not be acceptable.

The socialists know their leader, Leon Blum, is also ruled out.

The popular republican movement (MRP) wants to have President Georges Bidault for the job of prime minister in the new government.

As for De Gaulle, he remains as coolly aloof as ever, unwilling to be rushed into the presidency before some time in the next decade.

Nevertheless, it is an ironical fact that the man who almost single-handedly opposed the three major powers in asking rejection of the constitution is now their favorite for chief of state.

Reese Names Moore As Dance Chairman

President Harry Reese of the New Castle branch of the Fraternal Order of Police has appointed City Detective John G. Moore as general chairman of the annual police ball to be held Thanksgiving night in the Cathedral. Committees to dispose of tickets are now being named.

Lt. Al. McBride Goes To Fort Sam Houston

Lieut. Al McBride, attached to the medical department at Dayton Beach, Fla., visited over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McBride of 619 1/2 South Ray street. Lt. McBride was enroute to Fort Sam Houston Station hospital, San Antonio, Texas, where he has been transferred.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin. For the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

REPEAT DENIAL OF ATOMIC BOMBS OUTSIDE COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The White House reiterated a denial that there are any atomic bombs outside the United States.

The denial, first made by President Truman at a news conference Thursday, was made again today by Eben Ayers, assistant press secretary.

There are no bombs outside the United States with or without detonators. The only bombs that have ever been outside the United States were those dropped on Bikini and the ones dropped on Japan—and that's on the authority of the President.

IRON AND STEEL PRICE VIOLATION TO BE PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—The OPA today announced a campaign of "vigorous prosecution" against alleged widespread violations of ceiling prices in resales of iron and steel products.

The agency said that shortages, in some cases worse than during the war, have resulted in violations in many cities, particularly Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago.

$300,000 were reported. The OPA said they have been filed against resellers who allegedly added finder's fees to their selling prices or otherwise required buyers to pay over-ceiling prices. They are all civil triple-damage suits.

LIBRARY HONORS POLISH AUTHOR

This year marks the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Henryk Sienkiewicz, the best known and most widely read Polish author.

Several of his books, in English translation, are available at the Public Library, including his Nobel Prize winning "Quo Vadis", according to chief librarian Alice Sterling. Sienkiewicz spent three years in the United States, and it is said that his experiences here played a decisive part in maturing his genius.

During Sienkiewicz's lifetime the situation of Poland was very similar to that in which Poland and other smaller nations find themselves today. Caught in the cross-fire of the rivalries of Austria, Russia and Prussia, the lot of the Poles was not an enviable one. Sienkiewicz, always an ardent patriot, waited for his people the kind of freedom he observed at first hand in the United States.
